STUDENT INDUCTION PROGRAM (SIP)

FIRST YEAR UG STUDENTS

A REPORT

AUGUST 10th – 30th, 2023

Karunya Institute of Technology and Sciences organised a three-week Student Induction Program (SIP) for first year UG students in accordance with AICTE guidelines. The Program was conducted from 10 – 30th August 2023, to formally welcome the first-year students on campus and facilitate a seamless transition from higher education to tertiary education.

The objective of the programme was to familiarise students to the new academic ecosystem, create an awareness on our technology missions, institutional policies, practices, culture and ideals, and to provide a holistic vision of life, understanding self, family, and society through Universal Human Values.

A total of 1658 students attended the program with great enthusiasm and expectations. The orientation program had set the stage for lively discussions and deliberations, involving students from across disciplines for a meaningful and productive learning experience.

The program also provided the new entrants a platform to interact with faculty mentors, heads of divisions, deans of schools, controlling officers, university administrators and a host of external experts from different realms of academics and industry to have an overview of the university vision, multi-pronged mission, Outcome Based Education (OBE), student-centric project and product based learning, accreditation and ranking parameters, research culture, innovation and start-up, career opportunities in government and private sectors, psychological wellbeing and community engagement.

The Student Induction Program was coordinated by Mr. IMJ. Anandaraj, Head – Training. To ensure the efficient conduct of the program, a dedicated team of university administrators Pro Vice-Chancellor(QS), Pro Vice-Chancellor(SIR), Registrar, Deans of Schools, Director (IQAC), Director (IIE), Director (Research and Consultancy), Director (Student Affairs), Director (Industry Collaborations) functioned under the able guidance of the Vice Chancellor. Faculty mentors from all divisions worked extensively to ensure the successful conduct of the three-week induction program.

All the 1658 students were divided into eight batches as given below for effective participation.

ACTIVITY MODULES

Physical Health and Related Activities

Physical activities including team sports and mass drill were organised every morning to encourage team spirit, promote healthy competition, ensure group cohesiveness and bonding and nurture physical & mental wellness among all students.

Familiarization of Department/ Campus Visit

With the intention to familiarize students with the department infrastructure and ecosystem, and interact with the Head, faculty members and senior students, a campus tour was organised.

The students were excited to visit labs, Research Centers, Incubation and Start-up Facility, Central Library, Computer Technology Center, Innovation and Design Studio, Media Center and were looking forward to launch their academic career on campus.

Visit to Local Area

During this session, students visited a few nearby villages, orphanages, mental health centres, and old age homes. These visits helped the students understand the purpose of life by interacting with the people. Since the students come from various regions across India, this experience is valuable in helping them get acquainted with new places and people of different cultures and serve the community with commitment.

Lectures by Eminent Persons

In this session, students were motivated and enriched by listening to lectures from eminent individuals in various fields such as academics, industry, defence, art and culture. This exposure enhanced the students' perspectives and provided them with a holistic learning experience. The speakers delivered lectures on various topics such as 'Dare to Dream', 'Shifting Gears to Shine Brighter', 'Get, Set Goal', 'Entrepreneurship & Innovative mindset', 'Career Opportunities for Graduates in Government and Public Sector', 'Know-Grow-Engineer', 'How to get better at becoming more human' 'Design thinking', 'Impact of students in Accreditation and Ranking', 'Campus to Corporate', 'Concepts of Outcome Based Education', 'Digital Transformation', 'Incubation – start-up' and 'Grooming Engineers'.

Proficiency Modules (Maths, English, Computer science, General Aptitude)

Online tests were conducted to assess the proficiency levels of students in Maths, English, Computer Science, and General Aptitude. Based on the performance, students were grouped into three categories: slow, mediocre and advanced learners. Separate classes were then conducted for each group to enhance their proficiency in the subject. Departments have been requested to follow up with each student to help them improve their proficiency.

Creative Practices

Students were divided into several groups and engaged in various art forms, such as painting, drawing, pottery, sculpture, and craftwork. They participated enthusiastically in these activities and showcased their talents. The session was a platform for the students to express their individuality. The experience not only developed their sense of aesthetics but also enhanced their creativity, which is likely to influence their engineering design skills in future.

Universal Human Values I

The UHV session was structured to help students develop a comprehensive view of life. The teaching approach chosen was self-reflective in nature, promoting good communication between the faculty and students. It provided students with an opportunity to consider their value in all aspects of life, as an individual, a member of a family, a member of society, and as an integral part of the universe. This approach encouraged self-discovery, enabling them to enjoy learning, resist peer pressure, make courageous decisions and network with others on campus and beyond.

TALENT SHOW - Cultural Activity by Seniors and Juniors

The event was organized to showcase talents in singing, dancing, acting, mimicry, playing musical instruments and other activities.

All the freshers' were encouraged to participate in the events along with their seniors which was therefore an effective ice-breaking session.

Student Feedback

Comprehensive online & offline feedback was collected from students to assess the quality of the program and its impact on them. On the final day, August 30th, students shared their insights about the program and complimented the organizers for the valuable and motivating sessions, and also expressed their eagerness to launch their career in Karunya.

VALEDICTORY

The three-week program was concluded on August 30. Mr. M. Rajarajan, Deputy Commissioner of Police (Traffic), Coimbatore City was the Chief Guest. While congratulating all the students and parents for becoming stakeholders of KITS, he motivated the students to leave their comfort zones and work hard. It's wonderful to wrap up such programs and leave students with a sense of accomplishment and motivation as they embark on their academic journey. The program was graced by the Vice Chancellor Dr. G. Prince Arulraj and the Pro Vice Chancellors, Dr. E.J. James (SIR) & Dr. Ridling Margaret Waller (QS) and other administrators of the University.

Follow up

True to the motto of Karunya, mentoring is an essential and integral component of our institution's commitment to student development and success. A faculty member is designated as a mentor for 20 - 25 students to provide continuous care and support, right from their first year on campus till the completion of the Program. An exclusive mentor-mentee hour assigned every week in the time-table strengthens this symbiotic partnership and fosters a dynamic exchange between them leading to holistic development of students that is cherished for years.
